

Use this service when an individual is seeking services for themselves some period of time after release from the jail. The individual may walk in or call in to connect to resources, but they have already left the jail's premises.